

Figure 1: Agent state machines at different positions on the patch, a tuple designates next memory state and a picked movement direction, or do nothing otherwise. Empty hatched cells should be treated as erroneous states. Input direction is a position of empty cell at the beginning of time tick. In the absence of neighboring empty cell agents do nothing (not shown).